STOCKS IRREGULAR AND LOWER Bid and Asked on AFTER FAIRLY FIRM START. GOSSIP OF STREET.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Wall Street labor's successes lead to increased de thought it all over, decided that nothing mands. mattered, and that stocks might just as well be given a strong opening, and then it changed its mind, and the list with but few exceptions to the general rule. Probably Ohio results did count and perhaps they did not; few commission houses would hazard any opinion on the sentiment that dominated the market. They admitted that crop news and the state of the steel and copper industries was such that higher prices were warranted, and that the turned the other way in a hurry, and larity. prices were warranted, and that the condition of the money market should encourage such a trend. These factors, the Street seems to believe, should out-the Street seems to believe, should outweigh politics—but they did not in the first three hours of trading.

Operators took the bear side before the market was an hour old, and in the second hour the low of the morning was reached on everything, with some indications that the quotations might be the low for the day. A "little hitch" in the settlement of the coal strike was reported when the stripper boys made demands for 10 per cent increase in pay, some of the stripping plants being tied up. It is just an evidence that

Operators are again following the ticker, turning quickly with it, protecting trades with stop orders, easily caught, thereby adding to the irregularity.

Smelting was the strongest of the in dustrials and Canadian Pacific of the rails. The former was high at 87% to 1% gain, but it lost most of the advance. Canadian Pacific held a 2 central rails.
